

A Century of Weddings: 1901-1999

These transcripts from the marriage registers of St Faith`s church, Great Crosby, in the Diocese of Liverpool, from its earliest days to the end of the millennium, give the date of the wedding together with the names of the people being married. The actual registers contain greater details including the ages of the individuals, their addresses at the time of marriage and the occupation of the male party. Later registers, after about 1970, sometimes also include the occupation of the female. Names and occupation of the father of the parties are also included.

The occupations of the fathers, and of the male being married, provide an interesting insight into the nature of employment and how it has changed over the years. There are many seafarers in the early years but very few in recent time. In the first two registers, covering the first decade of the church, the occupation of a number of fathers was given as “Gentleman”.

During both World Wars many members of the military were married at St Faith`s and during WWII a number of American servicemen married local girls at the church. Two members of the Norwegian Navy were married at St Faith`s, there being a residence for Norwegian seamen in Blundellsands.

A number of St Faith`s curates have been married in the church and one of its vicars, John Brierley.

At the beginning of the year 2000 the oldest surviving person married at St Faith`s was Grace Jones, who celebrated her own centenary in 1999. She was 30 years old when, as Grace Wilson Horner, she married Griffith John Jones on 16th September 1930. She died on May 9th, 1903, aged 103.
